Cattle Powder.

BREING, FRONKFIELD & CO'S CATTLE MEDICINE have been thoroughly tested and pronounced unsurpassed and unsurpassable. None other as useful have been introduced during the century.

Whilst farmers are using every effort, and investing large amounts of money in the improvement of their soils, too little attention is generally paid to the health and development of farm stock.

Breing, Fronkfield & Co. justly claim being the first in this country, who devoted their attention to this important subject.—Their Vegetable Cattle Powder was the result of several years' study and experimenting—which experiments have actually shown that, by feeding this Powder, a Cow will yield from 12 to 25 pounds better per week than when she does not get the Powder; all other conditions alike. The same increase is proportionately produced in the fattening of cattle or swine.

It is used with equal profit for Horses, Cattle and Hogs. No farmer, or feeder of any kind, should be without it a day.

Elastic Cement Roofing.

THE subscriber is prepared to contract and put on at the shortest notice, W. E. Child & Co's Patent Proof and Water Proof Elastic Cement Roofing.
It is perfectly Fire and Water proof, and in point of durability is equal, if not superior, to any Metallic Roofing. It can be put on over tin, ear, iron, or shingle roofs, however that or steep they may be.

In point of fastening the elements of fire and water, nothing has yet been discovered equal to the Elastic Cement.
Those who have used it, have testified that it is the very perfection of Roofing, and that there is no further room for improvement.—No one will now think of putting on shingles, when this Cement can be had for much less money and will outwear four shingle roofs. This Roofing is warranted as represented.
The Elastic Cement is the cheapest and best protection from decay for wood exposed to the weather or dampness of the ground. It is also the best paint for iron, effectually preventing rust; and wherever applied perfectly excludes dampness.

The subscriber has this Cement for sale, in quantities to suit. For further information, apply to GEORGE A. COLE, Frederick City, Md.
Specimens of the Roofing may be seen at the Apothecary's Office, in Gettysburg, April 4, 1858.

New Arrival!

DESIRABLE FARM,

on which deceased resided upwards of twenty years, situate in Tyrone township, Adams County, adjoining lands of George Meckley, heirs of Jacob Wolf, Anthony Dear, David Samuel Dearborn, and David Hoover containing 202 ACRES, more or less, with good proportions of Timber and Meadow. The improvements consist of a two-story Weatherboarded Dwelling HOUSE, Bank, &c. attached, and a Corn Shop, and other out-buildings; 2 never-failing wells of water, one at the house, the other at the barn; and an excellent Apple ORCHARD, with a variety of other choice fruit. Conway Creek runs through the Farm, and there are also two springs on the property. The fences, mostly of chestnut rails, are good, and the land is in a good state of cultivation, producing it in grain, corn, &c. The property will be shown by Samuel Bollinger, residing thereon.

Also, A TRACT OF MOUNTAIN LAND, containing 7 acres, more or less, situate in Mendall township, Adams County, adjoining lands of George Meckley, Jacob Gilden, and others.

JOHN SNYDER, FREDERICK E. LOLTZ,
Executors.

The sale notes given for personal property of said deceased are now due, and immediate payment is required. The notes are in the hands of F. Holtz.

Fall and Winter Goods.

FOR 1858.—J. L. SCHICK would avail himself of this medium of announcing to the community and public in general, that he has received from the cities the largest and most complete stock of DRESS GOODS, that it has ever been of pressure to examine in this place, all of which has been selected timely, in the utmost care, and with particular reference to the tastes and wants of the people of this locality, and which for beauty of style and cheapness, he challenges competition. In the LADIES' DEPARTMENT, he has all styles, qualities, shades, and colors of Goods, suitable for the season. He invites the Ladies to call and take a look through his selections at their earliest convenience. FOR THE GENTLEMEN, he has a choice stock of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, &c., all good and cheap.
Don't pass by Schick's—he will always be found ready to show Goods and sell cheap—among the very cheapest.
Gettysburg, Nov. 8, 1858.

Take Notice!

THAT I have applied to the Honorable the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas for the County of Adams, for the benefit of the Insolvent laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and they have appointed Tuesday, the 21st day of December next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to hear me and my creditors, at the Court-house, in the borough of Gettysburg, when and where you may attend if you think proper.

The Poet's Corner.

Scatter the germs of the beautiful.

Scatter the germs of the beautiful! By the way-side let them rise, and consider himself exceedingly good looking and fascinating, made a deadly onset on the heart and fortune of a blooming young lady who was boarding in the same house with him. After a prolonged siege the lady surrendered. They were married on Wednesday morning. The same afternoon the "young wife" sent for and exhibited to the astonished student a "beautiful little daughter," three and a half years of age.

"Good Heavens! then you were a widow," exclaimed the astonished student. "Yes, my dear, and this is Amelia, my youngest; to-morrow, Augustus, James and Reuben will arrive from the country, and then I shall have all my children together once more."

The unhappy student replied not a word; his feelings were too deep for utterance. The next day the "other darlings" arrived. Reuben was six years old, James nine, and Augustus a sandy boy of twelve. They were delighted to hear they had a "new papa," because they could now live at home and have all the playthings they wanted! The "new papa," as soon as he could speak, remarked that Augustus and James did not much resemble Reuben and Amelia.

"Well, no," said the happy mother, "my first husband was quite a different style of man from my second—complexion, temperament, color of hair and eyes—all different."

This was too much. He had not only married a widow, but was her third husband, and the astonished step-father of four children.

"But her fortune," thought he, "that will make amends." He spoke of her fortune. "These are my treasures," said she, in the Roman matron style, pointing to her children. The conceit was now quite taken out of the Michiganian, who, finding that he had made a complete goose of himself, at once retired to a farm in his native State, where he could have a chance to render his "boys" useful, and make them sweat for the deceit practiced upon him by their mother.

"Son Stricken."—The proprietor of this paper was seriously "son" struck on Friday last, early in the day, but not fatally. He has so far recovered (from excessive gladness) that he is able to be about, attending to his usual business, notwithstanding the stroke was a very heavy one—being an "eleven-pounder." Such "strokes" will be insupportable, unless delinquent subscribers will have the goodness of heart to pay up, so as to enable the proprietor to meet his responsibilities.—Lafayette Recorder.

The South Carolina Senator.—The Hon. James Chesnut, who has just been chosen United States Senator from South Carolina, is said to be a statesman of ability and experience, and to be a conservative in politics, of the Hammond school. His term will commence in March, 1859, and extend to 1865. Col. Chesnut graduated at Princeton College, over twenty years ago, is about forty-three years of age, and a lawyer by profession. He is opposed to secession and the agitation of the slave trade question, and belongs to the State's Rights school of politicians.

Envy.

The envious man is in pain upon all occasions which ought to give him pleasure. The relief of his life is inverted, and the objects which administer the highest satisfaction to those who are exempt from this passion, give the quickest pangs to those who are subjected to it. All the perfections of their fellow creatures are odious. Youth, beauty, valor, and wisdom, are provocations to their displeasure. What a wretched and apostate state is this; to be offended with excellence, and to hate a man because we approve him! The condition of the envious man is emphatically miserable. He is not only incapable of rejoicing in another man's merit or success, but lives in a world wherein all mankind are in a plot against his quiet, by studying their own happiness and advantage.

An Item for Boys.—It is one of the besetting sins of the young men of this extravagant and indolent age, to endeavor to get rid of work—to seek for easy and lazy employment—and the consequence is that many of them turn out worthless vagabonds. Boys, avoid this whirlpool as you would a plague-spot; banish from your bosoms the dangerous desire to live without work.—Labor is honorable, dignified; it is the parent of health, wealth and happiness; look upon it as an invaluable blessing, and never as a burden and a curse.—Shun idleness and sloth; pursue some honest calling, and be not ashamed to be useful.

The New Orleans Delta tells of a goat in that city that nurses a child whose mother died of fever, and shows the greatest attachment to its charge, always running to satisfy the child's wants when it cries.

"My dearest Maria," wrote a quiet affectionate husband to his wife, a strong-minded woman: She wrote him back, "Dearest; let me correct either your grammar or morals. You address me, 'My dearest Maria.' Am I to suppose you have other 'dear Marias'?"

"In the anatomy of the hand, we find that the muscle by which we shut it is much stronger than the one by which we open it, and this holds true as to giving and receiving."

Work as though thou wert to live forever—worship as though thou wert to die presently.

A Caution to Young Men.

A young medical student from Michigan, who had been attending lectures in New York for some time, and considered himself exceedingly good looking and fascinating, made a deadly onset on the heart and fortune of a blooming young lady who was boarding in the same house with him. After a prolonged siege the lady surrendered. They were married on Wednesday morning. The same afternoon the "young wife" sent for and exhibited to the astonished student a "beautiful little daughter," three and a half years of age.

Inauguration of Professors.—The new professors of the Lutheran Mission Institute at Soling's Grove, Pa., were lately inaugurated. Rev. Dr. B. Kartz was installed as superintendent, and delivered an appropriate address. Rev. Prof. H. Zeigler also delivered an inaugural address.

Sale of a Circus.—It is stated that Dan Rice, the American humorist, has sold out his interest in the establishment known as "Dan Rice's Great Show," of which he owned two-thirds. It is also stated that he received $25,000 in cash, and a tract of land in Texas containing 17,744 acres, on which he intends to settle many poor families.

Better Times.—The Messrs. Hitter, at Spring Mill, Montgomery county, Pa., have put their second furnace in blast, and expect to keep both furnaces in active operation. The Swedes Iron Company, in the same county, are making the necessary arrangements to do likewise.

Another Race Won by Flora Temple.—On Friday last, a trot took place at St. Louis, between Flora Temple and Reindoor—mile heats, best 3 in 5. The former was the winner, taking the last 3 heats. Time 2:31, 2:31, 2:30, 2:32, 2:36.

Horse Stealing.—A bill is before the North Carolina Legislature to prevent horse stealing. It punishes a second conviction with branding in the form of a horse-shoe and a third conviction to be punished with hanging.

Decatur.—The inhabitants of Decatur, in anticipation of receiving a territorial organization from Congress this winter, have elected W. W. Kingsbury as a delegate to Congress.

Everything has its use. Were it not for the flies, people in summer would sleep two hours longer than they do, and thus lose the best part of the day—the portion devoted to sunrise and meadow larks.

The Kansas Game Played Out.

So universal is the determination of the inhabitants of Kansas to discountenance further agitation, that the recent attempt to get up a Constitutional Convention has entirely failed. A correspondent of the New York Times tells the whole story:

"The proceedings of the Kansas Constitutional Convention have been received here. The call was for a Delegate Convention on the 10th and for a mass Convention of the people on the 11th instant, to ratify the proceedings of the first. The convention met on the 10th. Present, one delegate from Breckinridge, three from Franklin, one from Johnson, and eight from Douglas—Total thirteen.

"Conway, who succeeded Jim Lane after the latter ran out, moved to adjourn on account of bad roads to some day certain. This proposition was voted down. Committees were then appointed on credentials and on business."

The latter Committee made a majority and a minority report, and both reports were received, but neither adopted, and thereupon the Convention adjourned! Conway and Vaughn declare their purpose to organize a party at once on

FREEDMEN'S MESSAGE.

Addressed to the President of the United States.

My dear Sir:

When we compare the condition of the country at the present day with what it was some forty or fifty years ago, we are struck by the contrast. The progress of civilization, the growth of the population, the expansion of the territory, the development of the resources, the advancement of the arts and sciences, the improvement of the manners and customs, the elevation of the moral and political principles, the progress of the human race, all these things are before us, and we are struck by the contrast.
